ABSTRACT:

The rich can afford always. The poor cannot. In contrast, a callous person can afford never. It fails successfully in each and every step of life. Also luck is a great factor that plays a crucial role. A rich can afford the fare of the flight. If the rich misses the flight then his afford becomes valueless. As such afford may not guarantee the outcome of any event always. Here time is a crucial factor.

INTRODUCTION

Creative writing is based more on manifestation rather than on expression. It does not inform rather reveals, so this style of writing bears no reference. The best creative writing is critical, and the best critical writing is creative. The present article is the outcome of creative writing meant for lay readers. As such free style is the methodology adopted so that pleasure of reading can be enjoyed by the common mass. As you may know Francis Bacon (1561-1626), the immortal essayist, wrote many essays and notably, "Of Love", "Of Friendship", "Of Ambition", "Of Studies", etc. The myriad-minded genius rightly pointed out that all the words of the dictionary can be the themes of essays one can write. But little has been done, in this regard since his death, in order to finish his unfinished monumental works. In fact Bacon's way of presentation i.e., his unique style kindled the imagination already in me and encouraged me as well to write essays, in the light of creative writing, thus to get relief through Catharsis.

ARTICLE

Afford is to have enough or the means for. It is to bear the cost of without serious inconvenience. It is to be able to spare or bear the loss of. It is to give as a yield or profit. It is to confer or impress upon someone, as a feeling or sensation. It is to be able to do something with little risk. It is to give.

Afford is to have enough money, time, space, etc. for a particular purpose. For example: They walked because they could not afford i.e. to take a taxi. You cannot afford i.e. are not in a position to spend $50. I can't afford the expenses/the time for the show. I would love to go on vacation but I can't afford the time. We would give more examples if we could afford the space.

Afford is to be in a position to do something which may have unpleasant consequences. For example: I must not annoy my boss because I cannot afford to lose my job i.e. must not take the risk of losing my job. A poor man cannot afford to displease a rich man. You can ill afford to criticize others when you behave so badly yourself. The firm cannot afford any more bad publicity.

Afford is to yield, give or provide something. It is to bear the expense, or disadvantage, of having the necessary money or other resources or security of position. It is to consent. For example: The tree afforded us welcome shade. The earth affords grains. It will afford me great pleasure to have you as my guest. The scholarship afforded him the opportunity to study in London.

Afford is to be in a position to do something especially without risk of serious or adverse consequences e.g. can't afford to let him think so. She cannot afford to miss another day at school.

Afford is used with can or be able e.g. I am not able to afford a car. Can you afford the time? I can afford to speak frankly.

Afford is to furnish or supply something e.g. music affords her pleasure.

Afford is to be able to spare e.g. can afford $50; could not afford a holiday; can we afford to buy a new television?

Afford is to provide e.g. affords a view of the sea.

Both affordable prices and affordable risk pay.

Before involving in marriage relation one should think whether he/she can afford money and time as well. To construct a house much money is required. One should collect money then he should start the venture. He who cannot afford money should not think for it. The budget for construction of dwelling house varies from person to person and depends on ability. Own house is quite an emotional outcome. It is owner's pride and neighbour's envy. The would be house owner spends beyond capacity to serve and satisfy his egoistic attitude. As such whether it is a palace or a hut it offers financial hardship after its completion instead. Yet the owner bears it with a smiling face.

A child needs affection and attention of the parents for its full blooming. A honeymoon couple can hardly think of the problem to nurture a baby. Those who are habituated in leading fast life are well advised not to give birth to baby since it will not be possible for them to afford time for the new born babe.

Modern couple cannot afford time for babies. Present day babies grow up in crèche. Parents, in course of time, get readymade product that differs from tailor made. Readymade products are all stereotyped. As such higher IQ cannot be expected from such products which were otherwise possible in case of mothers' affection.

Generally, unmarried couple donates their babies to the orphan house. The orphan house becomes overcrowded. Thus live together is not illegal but it is immoral.

A brilliant student can write all the answers in the examination. He can afford time round the clock for his studies. An inattentive student is so heavily and badly busy with his pre-assigned engagements that hardly can he afford time for studies. As such he submits blank answer script after examination hour is over.

Someone prefers money. Someone prefers time. Lover wants time, not money. Tender touch is more welcome than money. Later on time is replaced by money. An ambitious girl, from the very first day of love, hankers after that guy who can afford money. A genuine lover prefers person not penny. This noble emotion gives birth to immortal love.

The rich can afford always. The poor cannot. In contrast, a callous person can afford never. It fails successfully in each and every step of life. Also luck is a great factor that plays a crucial role. A rich can afford the fare of the flight. If the rich misses the flight then his afford becomes valueless. As such afford may not guarantee the outcome of any event always. Here time is a crucial factor.

CONCLUSION

Late arrival of a patient to the hospital may be the cause of death. Then the competent doctor cannot afford expertise for recovery of the patient. A wise considers every aspect of life very meticulously. A romantic heart takes life very casually. It cannot afford time for mundane gain.
