ABSTRACT:

Where direct contact is not possible a fiancé adopts the indirect avenue to propose to the fiancée through the messenger. This procedure is very risky since it may be widespread publicly. The bigger problem is that the fiancée may choose the messenger instead of the proposer. Here lies the overriding power of direct than indirect.

INTRODUCTION

Creative writing is based more on manifestation rather than on expression. It does not inform rather reveals, so this style of writing bears no reference. The best creative writing is critical, and the best critical writing is creative. The present article is an outcome of creative writing meant for lay readers. As such free style is the methodology adopted so that the pleasure of reading can be enjoyed by the common mass. As you know well that, Francis Bacon (1561-1626), the immortal writer, wrote many essays, and notably "Of Love", "Of Friendship", "Of Ambition", "Of Studies", etc. The myriad-minded genius rightly pointed out that all the words of the dictionary can be the themes of essays one can write. But little has been done, in this regard since his death, in order to finish his unfinished monumental works. In fact Bacon's way of presentation and his unique style kindled imagination and inspired me to write essays, in the light of creative writing, thus to get relief through Catharsis.

CONCLUSION

Direct pleases. Indirect pains. Indirect serves and satisfies a satirist. Sometime direct offers success. Sometime indirect offers prise. The outcome of both direct and indirect is gloriously so uncertain. Thus there are two avenues direct and indirect. The path thus adopted depends on the taste, temperament, attitude and intellect i.e., personality of the concerned person to realise the objective. A fool intends to adopt both the avenues simultaneously and fails successfully. Only a wise can identify the right track i.e. either direct or indirect.
