¹ RETIRED EXECUTIVE MAGISTRATE (CIVIL SERVANT) & PHD STUDENT, DEPARTMENT OF BUSINESS MANAGEMENT, UNIVERSITY OF CALCUTTA, INDIA.

ABSTRACT:

In case of love the partner should not interfere in all her matters. He should not suspect. He should not inspect. Rather he should respect due to her. If he can chain her with independence then she must remain permanently to him like a caged parrot who will sing for him to awake from his sleep to start a promising day with bed tea offered by her lady in love.

INTRODUCTION

Creative writing is based more on manifestation rather than on expression. It does not inform, rather it reveals. So it bears no reference. The best creative writing is critical, and the best critical writing is creative. This article is an outcome of thinking about creative writing meant for a general readership. As such, I have adopted a free style methodology so that everyone can enjoy the pleasure of reading. As you might know, Francis Bacon (1561-1626), the immortal essayist, wrote many essays namely 'Of Love', 'Of Friendship', 'Of Ambition', 'Of Studies', and so on. The multiple-minded genius correctly pointed out that all the words of the dictionary can be used as themes for essays. But little has been done since his death to continue or finish his monumental task. Bacon's unique individual style of presentation ignited my imagination and encouraged me to write creative essays as a method of relieving a wide range of emotions through catharsis.

ARTICLE

Independent means free from outside control. It is not subject to another's authority e.g. an independent organization.

It is not depending on another for livelihood or subsistence. For example: I wanted to remain independent in old age.

It is not influenced or controlled in any way by other people, events, or things. For example: They all made the same comment, quite independent of each other.

It implies self-governing.

It is not affiliated with a larger controlling unit e.g. an independent bookstore.

Independence is a warm feeling. It is a power someone enjoys. He who gets its benefit once never leaves it. Democracy offers highest independence among all set up.

There are two types of persons. The first category loves independence. The second category loves dependence. Both are personality traits. Both the persons are diagonally opposite with each other regarding their philosophies towards their lives. A sensible person can leave everything for the sake of independence but he will not leave independence in lieu of anything. It is the strategy of a master not of a slave.

A child depends on its mother to stand erect. But to run it does not need help since it can run independently. Here standing implies confidence that enables the child to run. Thus confidence enables a person to move ahead. It is a blessing. In fact, it is an important tool to win the battle of life.

A dependent person is always envious of an independent person. He contends that he has been deprived either by society or fate or by both simultaneously. He consoles himself in such nasty way.

A lucky person is independent by default. For this he has nothing to do. He gets it by birth or gets it automatically. His life is as smooth as silk. A brave person likes to lead an independent life. If his life is not in order he can do it through his capacity. If a lucky person is also brave then he is second to none. Thus independence is a blessing and dependence is a curse. In reality a cursed victim cannot convert his sad luck to good luck easily. Much effort is required to render disfavour into favour.

Master cannot be made. Master is born. A master is an independent person. A slave is afraid of independence. He cannot take mental pressure. He cannot take decision independently. He lacks in that capacity. As such he loves dependence. He is happy with wage. He lives in hut. He feels comfort there. It is his comfort zone. He does not think for luxury even in dream. He has no aim. He is not ambitious at all.

He may have choice but to him voice of master is full and final. Master's welfare is his welfare. As such he does not farewell his master. A master is happy with such a sincere slave. It is very rare since in all sphere of the reality agitation of proletariat is observed for deprivation since time immemorial.

Creativity depends upon independence. The more independence the more is the creativity. Compulsion acts as hurdles. Spontaneity disappears when it hears the foot step of compulsion. The outcome of compulsion is mechanical in nature. Here affluence of spontaneity is not observed.

A free person cannot realize the true nature of independence. A long captive person when comes out of the jail becomes simply mad. His joy of independence knows no bound. It is a matter of perception and feeling. Felling neither can be expressed fully nor can it be transferred to someone else since perception or feeling has no language. As such they cannot be translated. Here eye can express it. Silence enriches it thereby offers it an extra dimension.

A dependent nation cannot prosper as it thinks. The foreign ruler tortures its citizens and plunders the valuable resources of the nation and takes the same to its own country. For this exploitation the citizens agitate untiringly and want to be independent. Last of all the ruler leaves the country being disappointed or finding no alternative avenue. The patriots become martyrs and the nation wins independence.

The relation between two persons having equal status matches well and lasts long. Two independent persons are best friends. Similarly, two dependent persons enjoy long friendship. But one independent e.g. master and another dependent person e.g. slave do not attract each other due to unequal status thereby cannot enjoy friendship. They are restricted by inner pull. It seems it is difficult to ignore status difference. Only a Good Samaritan can conquer it but a status conscious person can do it never. He is so obsessed.

Man cannot work well under pressure. Productivity increases when the worker is allowed independence. Pressure or stern supervision disturbs attention. It diminishes confidence. Lack of confidence is the root cause of low production.

Independent means not dependent upon others. Simultaneously, it does not mean non-cooperation. Dependent means crutching. Two neighbours live separately but each must help the other in need to overcome the crisis. The proverb goes, "A friend in need is a friend indeed".

One must know the real friend. None knows future. Danger never comes with prior notice. As such its sudden appearance simply bewilders a person. If a person helps others he must get help in need as reciprocation. A selfish person never helps others. Similarly he does not get help in danger. Words like help, cooperation, etc. are absent in his dictionary. He seldom thinks for future. As such he faces immense loss or dies. He behaves so rudely that, after his death, his funeral ceremony remains unattended.

Parents take care of their children. When the children become elder then they live separately. Later on they marry and live with family. They may live in the same city. They may be neighbor. Also they may live in different cities. They live independently on practical ground but they must maintain relation with each other regularly for their own benefit. This strategy teaches the children to make bondage among them. "United we stand divided we fall" is a great saying. It is a caution to a selfish and self-centered person. Independent does not teach to be self-centered. Selfishness is the brain child of an evil soul.

Too much independence spoils the child. It is called indulgence. Every parents should know it. Most of the parents or guardians cannot distinguish between these two concepts. As such if they do not warn then in course of time their issues face serious problem.

Similarly, too much dependence is a hindrance towards full blooming of talent or personality. It paralyses the stamina. Life is not a bed of roses. It faces numerous hurdles. A dependent person may not get help from others. Also always help may not be obtained for practical reasons. Keeping this caution in mind one should practise self-help strategy. It enables a person to face the situation alone. Initially, he may not tackle the unknown situation fully. But in course of time he becomes expert to solve the problems fully as are faced with.

In case of love the partner should not interfere in all her matters. He should not suspect. He should not inspect. Rather he should respect due to her. If he can chain her with independence then she must remain permanently to him like a caged parrot who will sing for him to awake from his sleep to start a promising day with bed tea offered by her lady in love.

If the boss gives independence to the junior and allows discretionary power to decide independently without any intervention then the output becomes better. Also the junior respects the boss. In this way the work environment enjoys synergy.

If a junior requests the senior person to decide independently then the senior person praises the junior for his good sentiment.

The employee remembers such a boss who gave independence. They remember the boss even after their retirement.

CONCLUSION

They say all cannot be remembered. Similarly some persons cannot be forgotten even in ceaseless waves of crowd. This is the outcome of independence given to the fit person. Obviously all should not be given independence. All are not fit for this valuable tool. Very few persons know its proper use. Most of the persons misuse it.
