

OF RADICAL

DIBAKAR PAL ¹

¹ RETIRED EXECUTIVE MAGISTRATE (CIVIL SERVANT) & PHD STUDENT, DEPARTMENT OF BUSINESS MANAGEMENT, UNIVERSITY OF CALCUTTA, INDIA.

ABSTRACT:

An entrepreneur welcomes radical change. He is liberal in nature. As such, liberal is synonymous to radical. Superficial is antonym of radical. Thus a pessimist opposes change of any kind due to uncertainty, injustice and fear. He prefers stalemate condition. He is afraid of radical.

KEYWORDS:

RADICAL, ROOT, SOURCE, ORIGIN, BASIC, EXTREME, COMPLETE, TOTAL, CHANGE.

INTRODUCTION

Creative writing is based more on manifestation rather than on expression. It does not inform rather reveals, so it bears no reference. The best creative writing is critical, and the best critical writing is creative. The present article is the outcome of creative writing meant for lay readers. As such free style is the methodology adopted so that the pleasure of reading can be enjoyed by the common mass. As you know well that, Francis Bacon (1561-1626), the immortal writer, wrote many essays, and notably "Of Love", "Of Friendship", "Of Ambition", "Of Studies", etc. The myriad-minded genius rightly pointed out that all the words of the dictionary can be the themes of essays one can write. But little has been done, in this regard since his death, in order to finish his unfinished monumental works. In fact Bacon's way of presentation and his unique style kindled imagination and inspired me to write essays, in the light of creative writing, thus to get relief through Catharsis.

ARTICLE

Radical is of or from the root or source. It is pertaining to, constituting, proceeding from or going to the origin. It is favouring basic or extreme change, as in the social or economic structure. It is designating or of any of various modern political parties, as in Europe, ranging from moderate to conservative. It is a basic part of something. It is a person having radical views. It is an advocate of radical reform or member of the Radical party.

In grammar it is of or pertaining to a root. In chemistry it is a free radical which is a group of two or more atoms that acts as a single atom and goes through a reaction unchanged, or is replaced by a single atom. In mathematics, it is the indicated root of a quantity or quantities, shown by an expression written under the radical sign. In botany it is of or arising from the root or the base of the stem.

It implies fundamental e.g. a radical flaw/error/fault in the system. It is thorough or complete e.g. radical design/idea. It is favouring thorough or complete political or social reform. It is holding extreme political views e.g. a radical politician/thinker/writer/politics.

It is thoroughgoing or extreme e.g. a radical change of policy. It is favouring drastic political, economic, or social reforms. It implies existing inherently in a thing or person e.g. radical defects of character. It is denoting or pertaining to the radical sign. It is irrational. It is a person who holds or follows extreme principles. It is a person who advocates fundamental political, economic, and social reforms by direct and often uncompromising methods.

It is going to the foundation or source of something. It is basic e.g. a radical principle. It is thorough e.g. a radical change in one's life. It is favouring fundamental or extreme change. It is specifically, favouring basic change in the social or economic structure. It is a person holding radical views, especially one favouring fundamental social or economic change. It is normally incapable of separate existence.

It is fundamental e.g. a radical error. It is far-reaching. It is going to the root e.g. radical change. It is left-wing revolutionary. In measurement it is advanced by or according to principles of the kind. It is forming the basis. It is primary e.g. the radical idea. In surgery it is seeking to ensure the removal of all diseased tissue. In music it is belonging to the root of a chord. In history it is belonging to an extreme section of the Liberal Party. In US history it is seeking extreme anti-South action at the time of the Civil War. In slang it is excellent, outstanding, cool. It is a person holding radical views or belonging to a radical party. It is the root of a word. It is any of the basic set of around 214 Chinese characters from which more complex ones are mainly derived. It is a basis.

It is original. It is intrinsic. It is primitive. It is implanted by nature. It is not derived. In linguistics it is of or concerning the root of a word. In politics it is favouring thorough-going but constitutional social and political reform, advanced Liberal. It is a root, in any sense.

It is naturally inherent, essential, fundamental e.g. a radical error; the radical rottenness of human nature. It is forming the basis, primary e.g. the radical idea or principles of a system. It is affecting the foundation, going to the root e.g. radical change, cure, reform. In surgery it is seeking to ensure removal of all diseased tissue. In politics it is desiring radical reforms. In history it is belonging to extreme section of Liberal party, seeking extreme anti-South action at time of Civil War. In measurement it is advanced by or according to principles of radical politicians.

Radical is a person with radical opinions e.g. political/religious radicals.

Radicalism implies belief in radical ideas and principles e.g. political/social radicalism. It is the holding or following of radical or extreme views or principles. It is the quality or state of being radical, especially in politics. It is radical principles, ideals, methods, or practices.

Radicalise is to make somebody/something more radical e.g. an emerging radicalized clergy. It is to make or become politically radical.

Radicalisation and radicalise is to make or become radical.

Radically is with regard to origin or root. It is in a complete or basic manner. It implies thoroughly. It means fundamentally. It is in a manner characterized by radicalism.

Radical sign is the sign used before a quantity to indicate that the square root or a specified root indicated by an imposed index number is to be extracted. It is derived from the r in Latin radix, root. Radical signs indicate that square, cube, fourth, etc. root of number is to be taken.

Radical empiricism, as per philosophy of William James is the doctrine that the only proper subject matter of philosophy is that which can be defined in terms of experience and those relations are a part of experience.

Radical, in mathematics, is a quantity from which a root is to be extracted, shown with a radical sign.

Radical is rooting from the stem. Radicate is rooted. It is deeply rooted. It is firmly established. It is fixed. It is to root. It is to plant or fix deeply and firmly. Radicated is rooted, established. Radication is rooting. It is implanting. It is rootedness. It is general character of the root-system.

Radicle is a rootlet. Radicellose or radicicolous is inhabiting, or parasitic on, roots. Radiciform is like a root. Radicivorous is root-eating. Rad'icle is a little root. It is the part of a seed that becomes the root. It is a rhizoid. In chemistry it is a radical. Radic'ular is pertaining to a radical, a rootlet, or the root of a tooth, nerve, etc. Radiculose is having many rootlets or rhizoids.

Radical axis is the locus of a point of equal potency with respect to two circles.

Radical chic is the fashionable affectation of radical left-wing views or of dress, lifestyle, etc., associated with such views.

Complete, thorough, drastic, excessive, immoderate, violent are synonymous to radical.

Radical, extreme, fanatical denote that which goes beyond moderation or even to excess in opinion, belief, action, etc.

Radical emphasizes the idea of going to the root of a matter, and this often seems immoderate in its thoroughness or completeness e.g. radical ideas; radical changes or reforms.

Extreme applies to excessively biased ideas, intemperate conduct, or repressive legislation e.g. to use extreme measures.

Fanatical is applied to a person who has extravagant views, especially in matters of religion or morality, which render him incapable of sound judgements, and excessive zeal which leads him to take violent action against those who have differing views e.g. fanatical in persecuting others.

Man, from cradle to coffin, has to face reality in its various forms and features with varied degrees and dimensions as well. Also the reality has various faces and facets. Man adjusts with the change. Only the fit survives.

In patriarchal society, death of husband causes radical change to the widow. Man faces radical change with the loss of family. Parents experience radical miseries with the loss of only child. Labourers face radical change in wages everywhere in every ages. They face radical miseries.

Thus the proletariat die unpaid. They die unfed. They die unwept. They die unsung. They die unknown as well just like nameless thousands who built the pyramids.

None can resist the winter. An intelligent person accepts inevitable change and progress accordingly. One has to make radical changes in the plan. Radical reforms enhance the progress of any rising nation. A person the radical of today may be the diehard of tomorrow. The condition of weather has changed radically. Radically alerted fire fighters moved into the spot cautiously. Radically modified situation either may favour or not the inhabitants of the locality. In any suit the juries may have radically different views.

CONCLUSION

An entrepreneur welcomes radical change. He is liberal in nature. As such, liberal is synonymous to radical. Superficial is antonym of radical. Thus a pessimist opposes change of any kind due to uncertainty, injustice and fear. He prefers stalemate condition. He is afraid of radical.

REFERENCES

No reference, since the present article is an outcome of Creative Writing