

OF RESTRICTION

DIBAKAR PAL ¹

¹ RETIRED EXECUTIVE MAGISTRATE (CIVIL SERVANT) & PHD STUDENT, DEPARTMENT OF BUSINESS MANAGEMENT, UNIVERSITY OF CALCUTTA, INDIA.

ABSTRACT:

To restrict, thereby control, is an art. To not to restrict, thereby control, is a greater art. But all is not artist. As such one has to learn when to restrict, where to restrict, when not to restrict and where not to restrict. Only a wise knows when to stop and how to stop. It is good to restrict. It is better to withdraw it. It is best not to impose it. They say bail is the rule; jail is the exception. Restriction limits the movement. It is against independence of any person in question. Independence is the law; restriction is against the law. If a child is indulged it becomes prodigal. Proper education restricts a child not to be prodigal. Good citizens need no restriction. As such every nation should take care so that its citizens may become Good Samaritans. Thus to restrict thereby chain through the chain of independence has its unique applicability.

KEYWORDS:

RESTRICT, CONTROL, CONFINE, BOUND, LIMIT, TIGHTEN, WITHHOLD, ART.

INTRODUCTION

Creative writing is based more on manifestation rather than on expression. It does not inform rather reveals, so it bears no reference. The best creative writing is critical, and the best critical writing is creative. The present article is the outcome of creative writing meant for lay readers. As such free style is the methodology adopted so that the pleasure of reading can be enjoyed by the common mass. As you know well that, Francis Bacon (1561-1626), the immortal writer, wrote many essays, and notably "Of Love", "Of Friendship", "Of Ambition", "Of Studies", etc. The myriad-minded genius rightly pointed out that all the words of the dictionary can be the themes of essays one can write. But little has been done, in this regard since his death, in order to finish his unfinished monumental works. In fact Bacon's way of presentation and his unique style kindled imagination and inspired me to write essays, in the light of creative writing, thus to get relief through Catharsis.

ARTICLE

Restrict is to confine, bound, limit. It is subject to limitation. It implies withhold from general circulation or disclosure. It is to keep within certain limits. It is to limit. It is to put certain limitations on. It is to confine. It is to confine or keep within limits, as of space, action, choice, quantity, etc. It is drawn back. It is tightened. It is bound.

Restrict is to put a limit on oneself or somebody or something. It is to control or limit in some way. It is open only to certain people, especially because things happen there which the authorities want to keep secret. It is declared officially secret and available only to certain people. Thus restriction is law or alias of law. Limit is the synonym of restrict.

Restriction is restricting or being restricted. It is a thing that restricts. It implies limitation placed on action. Restriction enzyme, as per Biochemistry, is an enzyme which divides DNA at or near a specific sequence of bases. It can be used to divide genes into segments which can be combined with those of other species.

Restrictionism is the policy of favouring restriction, as of trade, immigration, etc.

Restrictionist is one who favours restriction.

Restriction is omnipresent. Man faces it. He has to face it. He is bound to face it. Thus man willy-nilly faces restriction infinite times from cradle to grave. Restrictions are manmade to protect the chastity of the society. Society restricts a man so that he and other members of the society can move smoothly. Some persons like not to obey the rule. They like to disobey the rules more. For these persons restrictions are relevant.

Restrictions are of various types. Also these are of different forms having varied degrees and dimensions as well. There are doctor's restrictions, children restriction, student restriction, adults only restriction, child marriage restriction, temple entry restriction, without shoe restriction, bride restriction in in-law house, et cetera to name a few.

Restriction is alias and akin to discipline. A wise obeys restriction. He is guided by motion. A child or a lover or an innocent soul seldom likes restriction. They are guided by emotion. They become furious if they are obstructed in the name of restriction just like water of a dam. Later on the child when becomes man is ashamed when he knows his past naughty days. The lovers are sadly punished by honour killing for dishonouring the social restrictions.

A wise hears patiently of restriction. He thinks the consequences. A fool neither obeys rule nor obeys restriction. Sometimes an intelligent person violets norms and becomes dangerous. A fool can, however, be tackled for its less talent. But an intelligent person cannot be controlled easily. Because, such a genius is either dangerously brilliant or brilliantly dangerous or both simultaneously.

A minor or an insane person should be restricted. Fog severely restricted visibility. The teacher restricts the number of students in a class for proper teaching. Families restricted to having one child to control population. It is advised to restrict oneself to one glass of wine a day. Speed is restricted to 30 mph in towns. Entry to the club is restricted to member only.

There is restricted access. There is restricted movement. There is restricted development. The shop sells a very restricted range of books. In modern house, space is often quite restricted. A restricted area is a place where speed or parking is strictly controlled. One should not enter a restricted zone. Then the trespasser is prosecuted. A restricted document should not make public to avoid untoward incidents.

Tourists are now able to visit most East European countries without restriction. There is speed restriction. There is price restriction. There is an import restriction. The authority places a restriction or imposes a restriction or enforces a restriction as and when required without showing any cause. Simultaneously the authority withdraws any restriction if it is no longer required to maintain law and order. The government has agreed to lift restrictions on trade with Britain. There is no restriction on the amount one can withdraw as long as his account stays in credit. The sale of firearms is subject to many legal restrictions.

Restrictive means imposing restrictions. It prevents people from doing what they want. It is restricting or tending to restrict. For example: She finds living with her aunt rather restrictive. It implies limiting e.g. restrictive regulations.

It expresses restriction, as in relative clauses, phrases, etc., that limit the application of the verb to the subject, e.g. people who like historic buildings should visit Edinburgh.

Restrictive is serving to restrict. It is of the nature of a restriction. It is expressing or implying limitation of application, as terms or expressions. As per grammar it is limiting the meaning of a modified element e.g. a restrictive adjective.

Restrictive means restricting or tending to restrict. In grammar it is designating a clause, phrase, or word felt as limiting what it modifies and so not set off with commas. Example: The man who spoke to us is my uncle.

Restrictive practice is any agreement that affects the supply of goods or production. It is also called restrictive trade practice. It is any work practice that hinders the most efficient use of machinery, etc. Also it is called restrictive labour practice.

This trade practice is against the public interest, as e.g. an agreement to sell only to certain buyers, or to keep up resale prices. It is used also of certain trade union practices, as the closed shop, demarcation, working to rule.

Restrictive practise, as is seen in Britain, is an agreement to limit competition or output in industry. In Britain, it is considered as derogatory. It is an agreement or ways of working which make an organization less efficient than it could be in order to prevent competition or protect people's job, especially by limiting the price at which goods may be sold or the amount of goods that may be produced.

Restrictive clause, as per English grammar, limits or identifies such nouns and cannot be removed from a sentence without changing the sentence's meaning. Restrictive clause is a clause which functions as an adjective to identify the word it modifies. This clause is essential for the intended meaning. It is a relative clause that identifies the antecedent. This clause is not offset with commas. For example: The boy who broke the window is at the door.

As per grammar restrictive clause designates a modifier, as a word, phrase, or subordinate clause, that limits the reference of the word or phrase it modifies and thus is essential to the meaning of a sentence. It is not set off by punctuation. For example: "who laughed" in "the person who laughed is my friend" is a restrictive relative clause.

Restrictive covenant is a provision that restricts the action of a party to an agreement, as any covenant i.e. unenforceable by law seeking to prevent the sale of real estate to a member of a specified minority group.

Restricted implies confined. It means limited. It specially means that may be seen only by authorised personnel e.g. a restricted document. It is, chiefly US, excluding certain groups, especially minorities. As per US Government Military of information, a document, etc. it is limited to persons authorised to use such information, documents, etc. It is limited to or admitting only members of a particular group or class especially, white gentiles.

Restricted area is an area in which a speed limit is in operation. In such an area there is a special speed limit for vehicles. Restricted parking, for example, is restricted for vehicles to five days a week. Restricted area means one from which the general public is excluded. In US it is an area which military personnel are not allowed to enter.

An examinee must restrict his composition to the point given. A debate is restricted to five minutes for each speaker. Tall buildings restrict the view in every direction. Laws restricting freedom of speech should be scrapped. Restrictions on foreign travel are imposed upon the persons under trial in the court. Restrictions on the import of luxury of goods are done for the benefit of local goods.

Authority takes restrictive measure for disobeying any rule. Death penalty has a very restricted application. Someone is restricted to advising to avoid nepotism. Neck to neck competition is restricted within narrow limits. It is subject to restriction. It is designated as not for general disclosure.

To restrict, thereby control, is an art. To not to restrict, thereby control, is a greater art. But all is not artist. As such one has to learn when to restrict, where to restrict, when not to restrict and where not to restrict. Only a wise knows when to stop and how to stop. It is good to restrict. It is better to withdraw it. It is best not to impose it. They say bail is the rule; jail is the exception. Restriction limits the movement. It is against independence of any person in question. Independence is the law; restriction is against the law. If a child is indulged it becomes prodigal. Proper education restricts a child not to be prodigal. Good citizens need no restriction. As such every nation should take care so that its citizens may become Good Samaritans. Thus to restrict thereby chain through the chain of independence has its unique applicability.

CONCLUSION

Always restriction is not good for the growth of the children. It restricts thereby causes hindrance for smooth flowering thereby building up of personality. The person cannot take decision later on independently. When support is removed he simply falls. He is afraid thereby cannot face the hard reality. He becomes mad. He cannot mix with other. He cannot distinguish between good and bad. Such an immature character becomes either deceived or involved in bad company and ultimately gets ruined. Thus too much restriction is bad than no restriction at all.

REFERENCES

No reference, since the present article is an outcome of Creative Writing.