

OF POLICY

DIBAKAR PAL <sup>1</sup>

<sup>1</sup> RETIRED EXECUTIVE MAGISTRATE (CIVIL SERVANT) & PHD STUDENT, DEPARTMENT OF BUSINESS MANAGEMENT, UNIVERSITY OF CALCUTTA, INDIA.

ABSTRACT:

There are numerous policies. Honesty is a policy. Dishonesty is also a policy. Cheating is a policy. Betray is also a policy. Similarly steal, ignore, hate, envy, hooliganism, etc. to name a few of different policies. All are professions. Different people are engaged in different professions accordingly as per their talent and temperament. All are unique in their respective aim and operation. But all has single agenda i.e. profit.

KEYWORDS:

POLICY, IDEALS, PROCEDURE, CONSTITUTION, ART, CONTRACT.

INTRODUCTION

Creative writing is based more on manifestation rather than on expression. It does not inform, rather it reveals. So it bears no reference. The best creative writing is critical, and the best critical writing is creative. This article is an outcome of thinking about creative writing meant for a general readership. As such, I have adopted a free style methodology so that everyone can enjoy the pleasure of reading. As you might know, Francis Bacon (1561-1626), the immortal essayist, wrote many essays namely 'Of Love', 'Of Friendship', 'Of Ambition', 'Of Studies', and so on. The multiple-minded genius correctly pointed out that all the words of the dictionary can be used as themes for essays. But little has been done since his death to continue or finish his monumental task. Bacon's unique individual style of presentation ignited my imagination and encouraged me to write creative essays as a method of relieving a wide range of emotions through catharsis.

ARTICLE

Policy is a plan of action, statement of ideals, etc. proposed or adopted by a government, political party, business, etc., e.g. according to our present policy; adopt fresh policies; US foreign/economic/domestic policy of the ministry; a policy-making body. What is the Labour Party's policy on immigration?

Policy is a definite course of action adopted for the sake of expediency, facility, etc. It is action or procedure conforming to or considered with reference to prudence or expediency. It is prudence, practical wisdom, or expediency.

Policy originally is government or polity. It is now rare, political wisdom or cunning. It is wise, expedient, or prudent, sensible conduct or management. It is sagacity. It is any governing principle, plan, or course of action, as pursued by a government, organization, individual, etc. e.g. foreign policy; honesty is the best policy.

Policy is a constitution now obsolete. It is the art of government. It is statecraft. In archaeology, it is craftiness. It is a course of action. It is a system of administration guided more by interest than by principle. It is dexterity of management. In Scotland it is the pleasure-grounds around a mansion. It is park round country seat etc.

Policy is a written contract in which one party guarantees to insure another against a specified loss, damage, injury, etc. in consideration of payments, usually periodic, called premiums e.g. in full insurance policy.

It is the terms of a contract of insurance, or a written statement of this e.g. a fire insurance policy; a policy document.

In U.S it is a method of gambling in which bets are made on numbers to be drawn by lottery. It is numbers game.

Policy holder is the individual or firm in whose name an insurance policy is issued. It is an insured.

Policy is an illegal lottery in which winning numbers are drawn from a revolving drum. It is the numbers.

Policy loan is insurance, a loan made by a life insurance company to a policy holder with the cash value of his policy serving as security.

Policy shop is a place where the game of policy is played.

Strategy, principle, rules, acumen, astuteness are synonymous with policy.

Naiveté is the antonym of policy.

Policy is alias and akin to aim or objective. A person without aim is just like a ship without radar. An aero plane or a ship cannot reach its destination without radar. As such every person must have policy.

A tree is known by its fruit. Likewise, a person is known from his policy. Obviously, a true gentleman obeys the policy what he says. In contrast a critical person does not follow the policy as declared by him before doing any job.

He who follows policy shines in life. He can track the right avenue. Also he can be tracked. But a non-policy holder follows no definite track. As such he cannot be tracked. He has no locusstandi at all. He follows that path that has definite return. ROI i.e. return on investment is his policy. He thinks something. He does another thing. He declines his doings. He forgets all and everything. His contribution is nil. But his income is cent percent.

Policy is an art. All is not artist. All cannot be artist. It demands talent. It needs tenacity. Not everyone can be the owner of such rare power. Very few fortunate people acquire it. This explains why we encounter so few people with true policy.

An insurance policy saves life. In case of death or accident it saves mostly the family of common people. Common people suffer most due to lack of awareness of insurance policy. As such they say common sense is most uncommon among the common people.

There are numerous policies. Honesty is a policy. Dishonesty is also a policy. Cheating is a policy. Betray is also a policy. Similarly steal, ignore, hate, envy, hooliganism, etc. to name a few of different policies. All are professions. Different people are engaged in different professions accordingly as per their talent and temperament. All are unique in their respective aim and operation. But all has single agenda i.e. profit.

We may hate a thief. We may avoid them. But we cannot decline their existence. A thief has also a policy. He has a philosophy towards life which one may not agree. They say no politics is also a politics. Similarly, no policy is also a policy which is more than a policy. Thus different persons exist with different policies i.e., objectives towards life.

They say, honesty is the best policy. It is the best principle for people to live by. One may lie and remain unpunished. One speaks the truth but punished. But an honest person wins in the long run. Honesty is the policy of wise. Honesty is the easiest way to an honest person. But to a dishonest person honesty is next to impossible. A dishonest person hardly can think of honesty even in dream. Wages of sin is death. A dishonest person dies ultimately and untimely even.

Honesty is alias and akin to truth. Truth is singular. Lies are many and plural in number. A liar lies differently to different people as per his policy. He has to keep all lies in memories. Any disorder will invite danger and punish him severely. He always suffers from tension, lest he commits any mistake.

Truth is one and singular in number. An honest person always speaks the truth. As such an honest person has no such tension to keep all sayings in memory and track regularly lest any mishap occurs. This is why they say honesty is the best policy.

A fool wants to attain success in vain adopting dishonesty. A dishonest person realizes it when he reaches the autumn of life. At that belated period of life he cannot compensate his deficiency accumulated so far. He has nothing to do except repentance.

Policy as if is a binding. As such someone follows no policy and decide as per situation. Thus he follows instant policy which is variable in nature. Someone changes policy for gain. Someone holds policy strongly in exchange of life even.

CONCLUSION

The authority reserves the right to take any decision which cannot be challenged. It is the policy of the administration. This is not tyranny. Rather it is autonomy. An autonomous body enjoys this power to take instant decision to avoid future complicity. This power is exercised in the interest of public service. This policy is adopted to run the administration.

REFERENCES

No reference, since the present article is an outcome of Creative Writing