ABSTRACT:

Someone likes to involve. He earns through involvement. Involvement is his business. Such a person is always vigilant to be involved in any trouble that offers him confirmed return. Someone likes not to be involved. A gentle man always tries to be free from involvement. A person may be involved in good affair. A person may be involved in bad affair. Again, a person may be involved in no affair. Then no involvement is also an involvement. They say no style is also a style. Similarly, no politics is also a politics, rather more than politics. It seems where politics ends no politics begins and a shrewd experienced politician plays this safe game for sure, secured and certain income in future without being directly involved. Thus no involvement is more than involvement.

INTRODUCTION

Creative writing is based more on manifestation rather than on expression. It does not inform rather reveals, so it bears no reference. The best creative writing is critical, and the best critical writing is creative. The present article is the outcome of creative writing meant for lay readers. As such free style is the methodology adopted so that pleasure of reading can be enjoyed by the common mass. As you know well that Francis Bacon (1561-1626), the immortal essayist, wrote many essays and notably, Of Love, Of Friendship, Of Ambition, Of Studies, etc. The myriad-minded genius rightly pointed out that all the words of the dictionary can be the themes of essays one can write. But little has been done, in this regard since his death, in order to finish his unfinished monumental works. In fact Bacon's way of presentation i.e., his unique style kindled the imagination already in me and encouraged me as well to write essays, in the light of creative writing, thus to get relief through Catharsis.

ARTICLE

Involve is to cause a person or thing to participate, or share the experience or effect of a situation, activity, etc. It is to implicate a person in a charge, crime, etc. It is to include or affect in its operations.

It is to engage the interests or emotions or commitment of. It is to preoccupy or absorb fully and usually used passively or reflexively. It is to envelop or enfold, as if with a wrapping. Archaeologically it is to roll, surround, or shroud, as in a wrapping. Further, archaeologically it is to roll up on itself.

Embrace, contain, comprehend, comprise are synonymous to involve. Involve, entangle, implicate imply getting a person connected or bound up with something from which it is difficult for him to extricate himself. To involve is to bring more or less deeply into something, especially of a complicated, embarrassing, or troublesome nature, e.g., to involve someone in debt. To entangle is to involve so deeply in a tangle as to confuse and make helpless, e.g., to entangle oneself in a mass of contradictory statements. To implicate is to connect a person with something discreditable or wrong, e.g., implicated in a plot.

Involve, generally, highlights negative or dirty affairs of any person, in question, thus involved. As such an involved person is avoided or hated by all. Man is involved. Man is bound to involve. Man cannot avoid the allurements of involvement. None can escape from the clutches of involvement. Thus man, willy-nilly, is involved many a time from cradle to grave. In this regard he is quite undone.

CONCLUSION

Someone likes to involve. He earns through involvement. Involvement is his business. Such a person is always vigilant to be involved in any trouble that offers him confirmed return. Someone likes not to be involved. A gentle man always tries to be free from involvement. A person may be involved in good affair. A person may be involved in bad affair.
