INTRODUCTION

Creative writing is based more on manifestation rather than on expression. It does not inform rather it reveals, so it bears no reference. The best creative writing is critical, and the best critical writing is creative. The present article is the outcome of creative writing meant for lay readers. As such free style is the methodology adopted so that the pleasure of reading can be enjoyed by the common mass. As you know well that, Francis Bacon (1561-1626), the immortal writer, wrote many essays, and notably "Of Love", "Of Friendship", "Of Ambition", "Of Studies", etc. The myriad-minded genius rightly pointed out that all the words of the dictionary can be the themes of essays one can write. But little has been done, in this regard since his death, in order to finish his unfinished monumental works. In fact Bacon's way of presentation and his unique style kindled imagination and inspired me to write essays, in the light of creative writing, thus to get relief through Catharsis.

ARTICLE

Privacy means the state of being alone and not watched or disturbed. Also it implies the state of freedom from interference or public attention. It isolates to live in absolute secrecy thus being withdrawn from society or public interest.

Avoidance of publicity allows enjoying privacy. Seclusion paves the way to live in strict privacy. It is unethical to interfere one's private life or personal affairs. To show such interest signifies an invasion of one's privacy.

To know each other is easy. But to realize is difficult. A man becomes successful to enter other person's privacy only when he is believed by the partner. Believing is the necessary but not sufficient condition in this entry. The partner must be convinced that he will realize her mood and respect her sentiment. Also he will maintain secrecy. If she be confident that the person is dependable and reliable only then he gets entry. Believing and dependence, the two pre-conditions, help to conquer privacy. In fact believe, love, reliability, dependency, confidence, sincerity, honesty, faithfulness, etc. are base materials. These ingredients pave the way to conquer privacy. Very few people have these qualities. This answers why closeness is rare.

A true friend never discloses his friend's secret matter to third party whatever awkward situation he faces. He never betrays. Seldom he blackmails his friend. But man betrays.

He cannot keep promise. He violates breach of contract. Also all cannot maintain secrecy.

Secret matters render some people mentally unrest. They cannot sleep well till they convert private into public and go to bed. They cannot help saying the confidential matters to his near or dear ones. They are not critical. They are lay man and fails to think future consequences of disclosing any secret matters. Being driven by emotion he seduces the chastity of privacy rendering it public. This is why privacy is disclosed to all and experiences no obstruction for its natural flourishing. Thus private matter is not for all. Only numbered persons are fit for it. As such one should be careful to choose private person to disclose private matters.

An individual intends to be open to the person of his choice. It is privacy. When other peeps, privacy is disturbed. So a man discloses privacy to someone but closes privacy to other. Thus it depends upon the allowance of the private owner. The proverb goes, look before you leap. As such a person must think before allowing a stranger into privacy. For disclosure closes all doors of returning back. Then a Satan blackmails the innocent heart.

And only repentance dogs everywhere for wrong deeds.

Virgin enjoys absolute privacy through chastity. Lover or husband discovers that secrecy nurtured by women. In fact husband and wife enjoy physical privacy. But they may not enjoy absolute or psychological privacy which is unreachable like the ideal that is always unattainable.

Prostitute has no so-called privacy. They do business through selling privacy. So to them physical privacy is impossible. In fact they sell open privacy just like open secret.

In true sense, nobody can enter into the land of privacy. Law deals with physical privacy but not mental privacy. But, for the sake of truth, privacy means absolute or the unattainable ideal. Because man does not want to allow third party to enter that galaxy where he moves alone undisturbed. Here man either does not allow or can't express his inner feelings due to proper language. It is unspeakable since emotion or feeling can never be transferred, neither can it be interpreted nor can it be translated. Wise men contend that man is born free but everywhere he is in chain. And man wants to unchain himself and move freely and whenever chance favors he intends to roam carelessly.

A doctor deals with body. To him physical privacy has no such value as is perceived by common mass. Privacy gets baseless dimension by religion in the name of virginity or chastity. Two bachelors are best matched. They are made for each other. And sometimes they are mad for each other. Two divorcees who lost virginity are best matched. There may be problem if one divorcee and another fresher. Here, all points should be cleared before any contract, otherwise another separation will take place instead of happy life.

Privacy offers warm feeling. Everybody likes it. It is indispensable just like water. It refreshes body and mind. So everybody should allow its mind to take shelter in the lap of privacy after hard day labor just like a bird returns its nest after all day flying in the sky.

CONCLUSION

Loneliness is akin to privacy. Someone is never alone when he is alone. He is less lonely with himself when he enjoys privacy through its eloquent expression pregnant with rich silence. Again some people are afraid of loneliness. Death frowns them while they are alone. Man can correct himself and thereby enrich through self-criticism. Self-criticism is possible only when a man remains in private mood thereby enjoys privacy.
